Email: clerks@churchcourtchambers.co.uk
Phone: 020 7936 3637

Llewellyn Culver-Evans

Year of call: 2021 | Year of silk:

About

Llewellyn practises across Chambers Crime, Regulatory, and Private Prosecution Teams. Llewellyn is a popular and highly committed barrister always focussed on achieving the best outcome for his lay client. He combines excellent inter personal skills with focused advice always putting clients at their ease. His is an eloquent advocate, with calm and measured delivery. He puts his all into every case he accepts instructions in and enjoys excellent working relationships with his instructing solicitors, fully understanding the importance of client care. He acts in cases across the full spectrum of general and serious crime , including GBH, serious Public Order matters, corporate offending, drugs conspiracies and serious sexual offences. He is an expert in the area of modern slavery and regularly delivers training in this area. Llewellyn is also experienced in acting in Civil Confiscation proceedings. He is also developing a thriving private prosecution practice. He is regularly instructed by local authorities on matters under the Housing Act, Environmental Protection Act, and Protection from Eviction Act, and is currently working with colleagues to design a training programme for local authorities on bringing private prosecutions in both the Magistrates and Crown Courts.

Practice Areas

- Criminal Law
- Regulatory And Disciplinary Law
- Private Prosecution

Languages

- English

Scholarships and Awards

Inner Temple Marshal Hall Trust Award

Inner Temple Basil Neild Prize

Inner Temple BPTC Outstanding Award

University of Law Negotiation Competition Winner

University of Law BPTC Scholarship

Education

Swansea University: LLB

University of Law BPTC: Outstanding

Quotes

"Llewellyn is a very sharp advocate who puts his all into every case I have instructed him in. Clients completely trust his advice and he consistently delivers excellent results. I highly recommend him. "
Solicitor in a Legal 500 ranked firm.

Central Court 25 Southampton Buildings London WC2A 1A